A PROCLAMATION.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Executive Department of North Carolina.

RALEIGH, Oct. 20th, 1869.

NOTWITHSTANDING the existence of peace and good order in other portions of the State, I regard it as my duty to announce that in four Counties, to-wit: Lenoir Jones, Orange, and Chatham, there is, and has been for some months past, a feeling of insubordination and insurrection, insomuch that many good citizens are put in terror for their lives and property, and it is difficult, if not impossible, to secure a full and fair enforcement of the law. Information has reached, and continues to reach the Executive, that in the above Counties a state of feeling exists which is totally incompatible with the free exercise, by the friends of the Government, of that independent expression of opinion, and that freedom of action, which is the birth right of every American. In Lenoir and Jones various thefts and murders have been committed; jails have been forcibly opened and the prisoners taken thence have been murdered; an officer of the law has been waylaid and slain on the public highway, and another officer of the law has been slain in the open day while engaged in his ordinary avocations. Private dwellings have been entered and the occupants terrified, and some of them whipped or murdered; others have been shot or hanged or cruelly beaten; and the result is that thus far the civil law, though firmly asserted and maintained, has not been adequate to bring the insubordinate and the wicked to condign punishment.—In Chatham the jail has been forcibly opened and a prisoner, confined under sentence of a Court of the United States, has been liberated and is now at large. In Orange the jail has been forcibly opened and two prisoners (colored men) taken out and shot, one of whom has died of his wounds. Three other colored men have been hanged until they were dead, one has been cruelly mutilated, and others have been whipped.—White citizens have been injured, insulted and terrified. The University of the State, sacred to the cause of learning, has been repeatedly invaded by bands of armed men in disguise on horse-back, and acts of violence have been there perpetrated on unoffending citizens and officers of the law.—Many of the colored people in these Counties, and no inconsiderable portion of the white people, though obedient to the law and good citizens, are living under constant apprehensions that they may fall victims at any moment to the malice of their enemies.

It is made my duty under the Constitution "to call out the militia to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrection and to repel invasion." I deeply regret that it seems necessary to resort to the military power to enforce the law and to protect the citizen. But the law must be maintained. I have waited in vain, hoping that a returning sense of reason and justice would arrest these violations of the law. But these evils, instead of diminishing have increased, and no course is left to me but to issue this proclamation of admonition and warning to all the people of the Counties mentioned, whether engaged in these flagrant violations of law, or whether indifferent or insensible to what is occurring in their midst. I now call upon every citizen in the Counties aforesaid to aid the civil power in a fearless enforcement of the laws. No set of men can take the law into their own hands. Every citizen, however humble, or whatever his color, has a right to be at peace in his own house, and cannot be taken thence except by due process, and cannot be punished save by the law. If there be those who counsel resistance to establish authority, such persons are traitors, and should be punished accordingly: if there be those who, disguised or masked, enter the dwelling of others by force and commit acts of violence, such persons are guilty of felony, and should be punished by hard labor in the penitentiary; if there be those who, without precept or order, hang, or shoot, or otherwise deprive any one of life, such persons are murderers, and should be punished accordingly.

I now give notice in the most solemn manner, that these violations of law and these outrages in the aforesaid Counties, must cease; otherwise, I will proclam those Counties in a state of insurrection, and will exert the whole power of the State to enforce the law to protect those who are assailed or injured, and to bring criminals to justice. In a matter like this there should be no party feeling. It is my fixed purpose to protect every citizen without regard to his antecedents, his color or his political opinions; but to do this the law must be spread over all alike, and must be inflexibly maintained.

Done at our City of Raleigh, this the 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and in the ninety fourth year of our Independence.

W. W. HOLDEN, Governor.

By the Governor:

W. R. RICHARDSON,
Private Secretary.

CHAPTER CCLXVII.

An act Making the act of Going Masked, Disguised or Painted a Felony.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact, Any person who shall disguise himself by painting his face, or by wearing any mask or any other device for the concealment of the face or person with intent to terrify or frighten any citizen of the community, or part thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by fine or imprisonment in the County jail, at the discretion of the Court.

SEC 2. Any person or persons, either singly or in association with each other, who being disguised or masked, or otherwise concealed in the manner described in the preceding section, shall commit any trespass or act by force or violence, which is now a misdemeanor by any statue of this State, or at common law, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and shall be imprisoned at hard labor in the Penitentiary for a term of not less than one year, or more than ten years.

SEC. 3. This act shall go into effect on its ratification, and the Governor shall cause the same to be published immediately.

Ratified the 12th day of April, A. D.

A MUSICAL DOG.

"Frank Schwartz, a merchant retired from business in Darmstadt, occupied his leisure hours, which were many, almost exclusively with music. His passion for the art acquired such an intensity that he required every one about him to fall in with his musical predilections, by either vocal or instrumental cooperation. Poodle, the dog, was the only one unable to render any musical assistance. As worthy Herr Schwartz felt the utter impossibility of making Poodle afford any practical aid, he determined to train him to fill the office of critic in his own harmonious community. He succeeded, too, by an ingenious method. Whenever a note out of tune proceeded from a voice or an instrument; every time that a musical fault was committed by any member of the family—and such faults were committed purposely—the rod was applied to Poodle's back, and he naturally began to bark and howl. He was exactly in the position of the whipping boy, who pursued his studies with the royal prince. Whenever the prince made a grammatical blunder, the whipping boy had to smart for it. Before long, simple threats were substituted for smiting on his (Poodle's) back; afterward a look sufficed to set the creature barking; and, little by little, Poodle familiarized himself with wrong notes and other musical atrocities, until at last a mistake could not be committed without his rebuking it either by a bark or a growl. He thus became, as far as music was concerned, the most impartial judge, the most conscientious critic in the whole grand duchy of Hesse-Darmstadt.

"Unfortunately, his appreciation of musical art was completely and solely negative. He bestowed no praise, but only blame. Sing with expression, perform with talent, the dog would remain impassive and cold; but at the slightest incorrectness of intonation, he ground his teeth, lashed his tail, growled, yelped, and barked aloud. So long as he flourished—and he may flourish still—not a concert or an opera was rehearsed in Darmstadt without inviting Herr Frederick Schwartz and his dog—but more especially the dog. If the prima donna made the slightest slip, the dog looked at his master with an air of disapprobation. If the hautboys came in too late, Poodle pricked up his ears; if the clarionet hurried the movement, Poodle fidgeted on his bench; if the kettle drummer broke the time, Poodle uttered audible murmurs. In fact, no piece was considered properly executed unless the canine connoisseur remained quiet on his seat.

"Nor must it be supposed that Poodle's instinct was limited to forming a judgment of the execution only. His intelligence, trained by hearing classical works, seemed to have penetrated some of the secrets of composition. An abrupt modulation, a false resolution, would produce symptoms of doubt on Poodle's muzzle; consecutive fifths made him shudder, and a halting melody set his teeth on edge. Sometimes Herr Schwartz and his intimate friends, in the privacy of a snug little quartet party, would amuse themselves by producing discordant sounds, for the sake of tormenting the sensitive animal. On such occasions, Poodle lost all self-command; his hair stood on end, his eyes became bloodshot, and frightful howlings answered to the discord produced by the fiddles of the mystificators. Moreover, they were obliged to keep within certain bounds. Poodle possessed only a limited stock of forbearance. If the ca-

[illegible] designs, [illegible] undermining? and undue means men take to advance their own condition, and to depress others!—and all this while never consider that which would easily cure the extravagance, as well of one hand as of the that had been bragging of their wonderful crops, "show some mighty fine cultivation, but I think I can beat you: I have an aunt and her daughter, in Wethersfield, Connecticut, that own about half an acre of land. This land them two women dressed and prepared, and planted it with onion seed, and how many onions do you think they got from it?" Many were the guesses, from five to fifty bushels, and all the incidents and chances of onion raising were discussed, when the one who propounded the question was asked:

"How many did they raise?"

"Not a derned onion," said he, "the seed was biled."

FALSE REPORT.

party in Pennsylvania got 800 copies in pamphlet and scattered them through their State to show the ill tempered condition of things in our midst.

BEWARE OF VANCE.

When Yancey spoke in Raleigh it was as much as myself and a few others could do to prevent some Union men in the city from getting up a row outside. I went off after Vance (had seen him once before) and we burnt tar barrels and got him to make a speech. The best one he ever made. While he was talking a friend took me aside and told me to "beware of Vance!"

THE MILITIA COLONEL.

It was at Charleston in the convention that Bedford Brown made a brief and able and dignified appeal against the tide of disunion that was then setting in. But his words were scarcely heard. Yancey swayed the convention as a tempest. A militia colonel from Arkansas got up and was very severe on Mr. Brown—full of fight and fire. Mr. Brown treated the attack with contempt and went out "shaking the dust from his feet." I watched for the name of that colonel during the war but never saw it mentioned save once or twice—and then in the command of some bomb proof place.

THE UNIVERSITY.

I consider Mr. Pool an able and faithful man. Not one of the old faculty ever asked to be retained. One of them—a very prominent one—would have been—had he made the request himself. It is not generally known that two of the Board voted for Gov. Graham. But we had no reason to believe he would accept the place even were it tendered. I am ready at all times to consider any move that will honorably attach to the prosperity of the University.

VIRGINIA AND THE TEST OATH.

What do you think of the Walker move in Virginia, Governor?

I am much pleased with the apparent success of reconstruction in that State.

Do you think the test oath will be exacted of the members of the Legislature?

No. That is, I do not think it should be. If I were there I should vote against it. The test oath anyway is a very odious feature, and I think it should be modified or abolished.

RANSOM'S SPEECH.

I heard Ransom's speech. It was an excellent address. Nothing in it that could redound to the material injury of the prosperity and growth of our State. It was well conceived and well spoken. (This speech was made at the Henderson Fair. Editor.)

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

What do you think, Governor, of Universal Suffrage?

I am in favor of suffrage for all or none. It would not surprise me if in 10 or 20 years the whole thing should be made ridiculous and be broken up by Female Suffrage.

CONGRESS.

An internal strife may not happen in my lifetime but it may come in yours and if it ever does it will come from the trenching of Congress upon the Executive functions. Men hate to yield power. Grant is now powerless. Every appointment made in the different States is by authority of Congress.

HIS ONLY AMBITION.

It is my only ambition to do my duty in the high office I have been placed. I am now 50 years old. And ten or twenty more—what is it? A flash of fire. A stray sunbeam. A mote in the wind. I have appointed to office men opposed to me in politics. I know what labor is; know what it is to be poor. I often think of the laboring man and wish that such men would be put in promotion rather than young and idle struts that never did a hard day's work

A GENTLEMAN who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN, No. 42 Cedar street, New York.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

THE Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure Cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. NEW CROCKERY HOUSE!
To the Trade of Virginia & North Carolina.
WE have opened in Norfolk on Main Street, opposite the Post Office, the largest and most complete stock of China, Crockery Silver Plated Ware, Glass Ware and House Furnishing Goods
It has ever been the pleasure of any one to offer to the Trade. Our stock is of
OUR OWN IMPORTATION
and bought of the Manufacturers direct on a dull and depressed market, which enables us to sell to the Trade at much lower figures than they have had offered to them since the war.
OUR STOCK IS COMPLETE.
and one need not go further than call on us and find a complete assortment such as is usually kept by first class wholesale and retail crockery, china and glass ware houses. Respectfully,

☞ We invite attention to the advertisement of the fashionable millinery of Mrs. Œttinger of Raleigh. It is a pleasure to us to speak highly of the enterprise of this clever lady. We have known her for many years and her delicacy and refinement of taste are only equalled by the correctness and fairness of her dealings.

Cursing in Church.

The Fair.

We were there on Thursday. The city was crowded, The Fair Grounds were especially attractive. Floral Hall was worth the trip—just to see it. The Mechanics Hall was equally as well set off.—Everything good except the stock, that might have been better. There was even a bull terrier dog there. And there was a cross of the wild goose. A fine large sample that made a noise just like the wild geese that fly over our heads in the Fall. These geese were raised by a gentleman who shot a wild goose "on the wing" and took it home and raised from it. Everything went off well. And somebody said that Young James of the Journal passed for the best looking man till we got there and then—Evans got the premium, Reh! for that.

The Silk Manufacture.

A lady from Concord had several skeins of beautiful silk—a golden yellow—that she made herself—and they were on exhibition at the State Fair. This lady and her sister have been making their own silk for the last 30 years. Mr. Coleman of Concord told us that he himself got the egg from Washington city 30 years ago that hatched the worm that first began the work in Concord.

THE PROCESS.

In its detail the process of making silk is a very interesting one and should be made quite as useful to the people of this State. The silk worm early in the spring eats out of its cocoon and goes into a butterfly. As soon as the butterfly appears it lays an egg—hundreds of them—the size of a mustard seed. It lives a week and dies. These eggs are kept on white paper and soon hatch out the worms. These worms are hatched about the time the mulberry leaves begin to shoot forth. And on these leaves the worm is fed, eating ravenously and growing to the size of one's thumb. Then something is given it—a piece of paper—anything it can tie a fibre to and it goes to work and weaves it a cocoon. All this can be done in the house and 5000 worms can be put to work in a room. When the cocoon is ready—the chrysalis is killed by hot water and you go to work gathering the silk. These ladies we were told made all the silk stockings for themselves.

A Day with the Mutes.

The institution in Raleigh under the efficient management of W. J. Palmer is attaining an excellence that daily attracts crowds of visitors to witness the proficiency of its pupils.

"What sign is that," we asked Mr. Coleman—an accomplished young teacher—as we noticed a chap with the back of his hand under his chin. "That is the sign for a dog."—said he. And that!"—as a fellow was flapping both of his broad hands above his head—"that's for mule." "And that!" as a little rogue kissed his hand and rubbed it over his face. "That's for pretty." We passed on. Mr. Tillinghast, a mute and one of the teachers, now rendered "Christ stilling the tempest." It was even more eloquent than the language of the tongue. In the graphic play of his signs and features you could even fancy "the white caps" on the waves. In this room we found a daughter of one of the Siamese Twins. She has a little black eye and her hair and complexion like that of an Indian.

THE BLIND.

Here the scene grows sadder. Maybe off by herself you find a young girl warbling some plaintive air. One we passed. She was singing "I've no mother now I'm lonely."—ah—God—she was. The blind all love music. Young Simpson and Miss Dupree of the Institution cannot be surpassed in the State as musicians. And a little chap there—just 7 years old—we ought to hear him sing Capt. Jinks.

A CURIOUS CASE.

We noticed a little fellow who was an odd compound. He had memory, because we were told he had memorized long verses of poetry. But you could get but little intelligence from him. He was said to be always hungry. Always asking for something to eat. He wanted "bread and cheese" when we saw him. The teacher said he asked one day in the school room for "some capacity to drink." When he first came, the teacher made him sit down on a bench and when he asked him "are you standing up sir, or sitting down?" "I am standing up"—replied the boy—"won't you give me some cheese?" But we hope the little fellow will improve. He is certainly under most excellent charge.

OBITUARY.

Died of Tuberculosis October 15th, Mrs. Loretta J. Holden, w.fe of A. L. Holden in the 30th year of her age. She calmly passed away as one falling into a gentle sleep. Her sufferings for several days until within a few hours of her death were intense but she bore all with christian resignation and patience without a murmur or complaint. Thus another noble spirit has passed from time to eternity and while we shall never more behold her cheerful face or hear her musical voice on this earth; her memory still lives and will continue to live in the hearts of a fond and devoted husband, an only daughter, an extensive circle of family connexion, and numerous warm and devoted friends.

How long! O, Lord, how long!"—Ral. Standard.

Mr. Editor—Please tell the Standard that I fear the outrages it so lugubriously calls upon the Lord to let it know 'how long' they will continue, will last as long as the "Loyal League" exists, and its members continue to murder innocent white men, ravish white women, burn dwelling houses and barns, and rob and steal indiscriminately. If that paper would stop Ku Klux outrages, let it abolish the League and stop the crimes and outrages its members perpetrate—crimes and outrages which humanity shudders to contemplate, and which the Standard and Governor Holden take particular pains not to mention and condemn, whenever they denounce Ku Klux outrages. Witness, for example, the Governor's Proclamation of last week. He seems to hear of Ku Klux outrages, but appears to be totally ignorant of hellish outrages by the League, of which he is the reputed President. Oh no, sir! not a word do we find about Loyal League murderers—ravishers—barn burners, &c. Now, sir, you very well know that I am no more of a Ku Klux than Gov. Holden, but it does seem to me that 'sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander." And feel confident if the Governor will stop Loyal League outrages, he will no longer hear of Ku Klux vengeance. Let him try it.

A single word more, sir: Who are the Ku Klux? From whence do they come? Are they human beings or grave-yard gorgons? They come in such a 'questionable shape' that no outsider durst 'speak to them.' But, Mr Editor, are not outrages often perpetrated by the League—aye, sir, the League—in thy name, Oh, Ku Klux! Hear you, sir, of no murders or whippings of members of the League by the League—for what? For daring to vote against the 'orders' of the League. These outrages by Leaguelites are booked against the Ku Klux, and, sir, that is unfair—let justice reign if the heavens fall—and

LET US HAVE PEACE.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

After the reading and approval of the minutes, Mr. N. W. Woodfin, of Buncombe, read an interesting Essay on the productions of the Dairy in Western North Carolina, which was well received and was followed by an animated discussion of the subjects of which it treated.

Messrs. Dodge and Saunders, of the Agricultural Bureau, Washington, by invitation of the President, addressed the meeting, giving much useful information on the subjects of fruit growing, wine making and kindred subjects.

Gen. D. M. Barringer followed in some brief remarks on our State enterprises and prospects.

Mr. C. W. Westbrook of Warren, then read an Essay on fruit culture, and was followed by Mr. L. Frœlich, of Kenansville on the same subject. Both papers were eminently practical and instructive.

An Essay was also read by Mr. Shultz of Salem, on the Bee culture.

We expect to publish these essays as soon as we can make room for them.

The Society then went into an election of officers, when all the present officers were re-elected.

On motion of Col. Heck, a resolution was adopted, to elect officers hereafter by ballot.

The special committee on Mr. Foster's typewriter reported in favor of granting the inventor a medal and special premium. The proposition in regard to the premium was, on motion, referred to the Executive Committee.

The Society meets again to night at 7 o'clock.—Sentinel.

Dress Goods! Dress Goods! In great variety; Styles new; Goods pretty, cheap enough to buy.

FRENCH MERINOES,

in which I recognize no competition, as they will be sold just as cheap as they were when Cotton was 10 cents per lb, and money equivalent to gold.

Always Come to Creech's to buy MERINO Dresses for my money is as good as anybody's; I bought them as cheap as anybody, and I intend to sell as cheap as anybody. That's the way to talk it.

Goods for Men and Boys' Wear,

Such as Kentucky Jeans, Tweeds, Satinets and Cassimeres. No better assortment or greater variety in the city. In fact, I have enough to keep the boys, the youths, the young men and the old gentlemen, all warm. Step in at Creech's and look at them before you buy.

Hats! Hats!! Hats!!!

For Gent's, Boys and Children. Pull off your old summer hat; it's too late to wear it now; style is changed. In fact, a new hat looks best, anyhow. Call at Creech's corner and examine, before you buy a new Hat.

Shoes! Shoes;!

One among the largest and best assortments in the City. Come pull off your old old shoes, throw away those that are worn out, and put on a new pair. Keep your feet dry, and preserve your health. Always come to Creech's before you buy.

Ladies and Misses' Hats! Hats!

No use to talk. The style has changed. Spring and Summer styles are out of vogue; so go to CREECH'S. He always keeps the NEW STYLES.

Ladies' Bonnets.

Some small enough; some large enough; some trimmed; some untrimmed. It won't do you any harm to call at Creech's before you buy.

Cloaks and Shawls. A Fine Assortment.

Now don't you think you had just as well step over to CREECH'S and look. Probably you will save time and money. In fact, that is just the very place to get the worth of your money; and permit me to tell the people, that when they visit the City, to Come to Creech's for thousands who have come, acknowledge the truthfulness of my assertions.

I have more to say to you, but will tell you the balance at my place of business. A. CREECH.

Farm Yard Scraps.

We give the following receipt for preserving cider: To one barrel of cider put in one pound mustard seed, two pounds raisins, and one-fourth pound of the sticks (bark) of cinnamon.—Farmer.

It is highly important that the yards around our dwellings, if not naturally dry, should be thoroughly drained as a protection against disease. Catarrhal affections are often generated among children by unhealthy exhalations from yards holding too much water, and consequently of a low temperature.

The Germantown "Telegraph" says the best way to prepare hen manure for use is to mix it with soil half and half, and keep it till wanted. It suits the corn crop, onion crop, &c., and may be applied in the hill or as a top dressing after the plants are up.

To Cure Sore Throat.—Take the white of two eggs and beat them with two spoonfuls of white sugar; grate in a little nutmeg, and then add a pint of lukewarm water. Stir well and drink often. Repeat the prescription if necessary, and it will cure the most obstinate cases of hoarseness in a short time.

☞ Carrots for Horses.—Wash the root clean, and feed about four quarts at once, in addition to oats, or cut feed and hay. There is no danger of feeding a horse too much of either turnips or carrots, provided he receives a good feeding of oats and hay also. The tendency of carrots is to keep the bowels loose.—N. Y. Times.

In Belgium and Holland linen is prepared beautifully, because the washer women use refined borax, instead of soda, as a washing powder. One large handful of borax is used to every ten gallons of boiling water, and the saving in soap is said to be one-half. For laces and cambrics an extra quantity is used. Borax does not injure the linen, and it softens the hardest water. A tea spoonful of borax added to an ordinary sized kettle of hard water, in which it is allowed to boil, will effectually soften the water.

It may not be generally known that the seed of the sunflower is the most infallible remedy yet discovered for the speedy cure of founder in horses. The directions, which we glean from a brief article upon the subject in the Essex Banner, are: Immediately on discovering that your horse is foundered, mix about a pint of the whole seed in his food and it will perfect a cure. Sunflowers are easily grown in out of the way places, where they take up but little room. The seed, when fed in small quantities to the horse, is very healthy, giving to the hair a peculiar gloss. It is a diuretic in its tendency. Fowls like it much, and thrive on it.

Several young ladies in portions of Indiana have been robbed of their hair.

Hon. Horatio Seymour invites interviewing reporters to dig potatoes with him on his farm.

A Western town is without a newspaper, because "the ladies' sewing society answers just as well."

The San Francisco papers report the loading of a bark for Hong Kong with a "cargo of old scrap iron, boxes of dead Celestials, and other produce."

What is the difference between editorial and matrimonial experience? In the former the devil cries for "copy." In the latter the "copy" cries like the devil.

A man noted for imperturtability and a scolding wife, was stopped in the woods one night by a pretended ghost. He only added: "I can't stop, my friend; if you are a man I must request you to get out of the way and let me pass; if you are the Devil come along and take supper; I married your sister!

A clergyman who was consoling a young widow on the death of her husband spoke in a serious tone of his many admirable qualities:

"You know," he said, "you can never find his equal, search as long as you will."

To which the sobbing fair one replied, almost broken hearted: "I'll bet I will."

A foppish fellow advised a friend not to marry a poor girl, as he would find matrimoney with poverty, "up hill work." 'Good," said his friend, 'I would rather go up hill than down, any time.'

The Newark Courier says: "To criticise a newspaper is an easy task, but to print one to please everybody and the rest of mankind, is no small undertaking. Those who find fault with every little item which does not suit their ideas of right and wrong should buy type and publish a paper of their own. Let them try it for awhile, and if they don't get some new ideas on the subject, we are no judge of human nature—that's all."

A lady being separated from her husband changed her religion, being determined, she said, to avoid his company in this world and the next.

The son of a Western clergyman was delivering a college valedictory address a short time ago, when, in taking his handkerchief from his pocket, he pulled out a deck of cards, which fell to the floor. "Hullos," he exclaimed, "I've got on my father's coat." The worthy divine, who sat in front of his promising son, was more confused, than the hopeful scion.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.

MARK YOUR FREIGHT
"VIA PETERSBURG."
The New Baltimore
AND CAROLINA GRAND TRUNK
FREIGHT LINE!
Comprising the following Great Freight Routes:
The Powhatan Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,
The Petersburg and Weldon

[redacted]

This new trunk line forms a Great Freight Route between Baltimore and Weldon,
Warrenton, Raleigh,
Hillsboro, Lexington,
Salisbury, Morganton,
Charlotte, Lincolnton,
Goldsboro', Newbern,
Beaufort, Wilmington,
Chesterville, Winnsboro,
Columbia, Greenville,
Sumterville, Manchester,
Cheraw,
And all Intermediate Points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas.

Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run Through without breaking Bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro,' Wilmington, &c., &c.

This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. The Wharf of Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very Centre of the Great Shipping District of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to Consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Roots, &c., &c. All Produce Forwarded at the Lowest possible Rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line, mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "Via Petersburg."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are Given and Fixed Rate per 100 lbs. Guaranteed Both Ways.

☞ Rates in every case as low if not lower than any other Route, to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N. B.—With regard to the last named points Freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and New York Steamers.
